Sharing Information with Third Parties

First Baptist does not sell, rent or lease its customer lists to third parties.

First Baptist may, from time to time, contact you on behalf of external business partners about a particular offering that may be of interest to you. In those cases, your unique personally identifiable information (e-mail, name, address, telephone number) is not transferred to the third party. First Baptist may share data with trusted partners to help perform statistical analysis, send you email or postal mail, provide customer support, or arrange for deliveries. All such third parties are prohibited from using your personal information except to provide these services to First Baptist, and they are required to maintain the confidentiality of your information.

First Baptist may disclose your personal information, without notice, if required to do so by law or in the good faith belief that such action is necessary to: (a) conform to the edicts of the law or comply with legal process served on First Baptist or the site; (b) protect and defend the rights or property of First Baptist; and/or (c) act under exigent circumstances to protect the personal safety of users of First Baptist, or the public.

Automatically Collected Information

Information about your computer hardware and software may be automatically collected by First Baptist. This information can include: your IP address, browser type, domain names, access times and referring website addresses. This information is used for the operation of the service, to maintain quality of the service, and to provide general statistics regarding use of the First Baptist website.

Use of Cookies

The First Baptist website may use "cookies" to help you personalize your online experience. A cookie is a text file that is placed on your hard disk by a web page server. Cookies cannot be used to run programs or deliver viruses to your computer. Cookies are uniquely assigned to you, and can only be read by a web server in the domain that issued the cookie to you.

One of the primary purposes of cookies is to provide a convenience feature to save you time. The purpose of a cookie is to tell the Web server that you have returned to a specific page. For example, if you personalize First Baptist pages, or register with First Baptist site or services, a cookie helps First Baptist to recall your specific information on subsequent visits. This simplifies the process of recording your personal information, such as billing addresses, shipping addresses, and so on. When you return to the same First Baptist website, the information you previously provided can be retrieved, so you can easily use the First Baptist features that you customized.

You have the ability to accept or decline cookies. Most Web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer. If you choose to decline cookies, you may not be able to fully experience the interactive features of the

First Baptist services or websites you visit.
